Biomedicine

The European Academy of Dermatology and Venereology is delighted to invite you to attend the annual event co-organised with the Institute for Research in Biomedicine (IRB-USI).

Medical progress always benefits from the cooperation of both researchers and clinicians; the programme consists of a basic research session dedicated to the new achievements in immunodermatology, followed by a clinical session focused on controversies and pitfalls in the fields of inflammatory skin diseases and cutaneous neoplasms. Distinguished speakers with well-recognized experience will lead this 3-hour event.

Register here to join the free EADV-IRB dermatological web meeting:
A great opportunity to gain new knowledge on the recent advances in the fields of dermatology and immunology!
